

THE PUTNEY COLUMN

Mrs. Horace L. Scott.

Mrs. Horace L. Scott died at her home on the West Hill road about 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, Dec. 21, of pneumonia following several years of rheumatism. She returned from her son's home in Springfield, Mass., about a month ago, where she had been for several months, receiving electrical treatment for the rheumatism. She had been a great sufferer a year and the disease had made great inroads on her strength, and she was not able to rally when stricken with pneumonia, but died suddenly. Mrs. Scott had many warm friends, being of a kind, motherly disposition, always ready to help those who were in need, and many a boy and girl who have worked in her home have found a good friend in her. Her home was the center of life and she was a devoted wife and mother and grandmother.

Martha L. Joslyn was born in Putney Oct. 9, 1848, and was the daughter of Burton and Abigail Townsend Joslyn. She was married to Horace L. Scott Jan. 21, 1871, and to them were born two children, Lorenzo J. Scott, of Springfield, Mass., and Mabel Abby, wife of Dr. A. C. Patterson of this town, who survive, as do also three grandchildren, Chester H. and Marjory L., children of Mrs. and Mr. Lorenzo Scott, and Dorothy Mae, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Patterson, and one sister, Mrs. Fanny Francis of Putney.

The funeral was held in the home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. J. E. Berry officiating. E. H. Miller of Dummerston sang three selections. The burial was in Mount Pleasant cemetery. Lorenzo J. Scott, Albert C. Patterson, John Chapin and William Francis acted as bearers.
